Regulation Summary

The Texas A&M University System (system) is committed to maintaining work and educational environments that are free from conflicts of interest, favoritism, and abuse of authority. This regulation addresses amorous, romantic, and/or sexual relationships that, although consensual, may create actual or perceived ethical, discriminatory, and/or harassing situations disruptive to the member community.

Regulation

1. The employment or supervision of spouses or close relatives is addressed in System Policy 07.05, Nepotism. This regulation does not apply to a consensual relationship between an employee and the employee's spouse.
2. The consensual relationships covered by Sections 3 and 4 of this regulation are characterized by a difference in actual or perceived power that creates the potential for any of the following:
  - 2.1.a conflict of interest;
  - 2.2.allegations that the relationship resulted from coercion, exploitation and/or harassment; or
  - 2.3.allegations of favoritism and/or unfair treatment.
3. Prohibited Consensual Relationships

3.1. Employee/Undergraduate Relationships

A system university employee is prohibited from pursuing or having a consensual relationship with an undergraduate student at that institution. A consensual relationship in violation of this section may result in disciplinary action against the member employee, up to and including dismissal. An employee may request an exemption from the prohibition set forth in this section from the president or designee of the system university for whom the employee works. Exemptions may be granted only in exceptional circumstances. Documentation of an exemption is signed by the president or designee and placed in the employee's personnel file.

3.2. Individuals Under Employee’s Authority or Supervision

Unless alternative arrangements are approved under Sections 3.2.1 and 3.2.2, a consensual relationship is prohibited between a member employee and another individual (graduate student, staff, faculty, or third party) who is under the employee’s authority or supervision. An individual is under an employee’s “authority or supervision” if the employee has one of the following: authority over any term or condition of the other individual’s employment or academic status; job duties making the employee directly or indirectly responsible for the other individual’s hiring, supervising, evaluating, teaching, coaching, grading, advising, mentoring, or providing benefits to or obtaining benefits from the other individual, including employment. This prohibition applies whether the other individual is an employee, student or third party.

3.2.1 For a consensual relationship covered by this section, the employee with the hiring, supervisory, evaluative, teaching, coaching, grading or advisory responsibilities, or the employee providing benefits to or obtaining benefits from the third party, must promptly notify the employee’s immediate supervisor of the relationship and engage in a discussion of alternative arrangements for hiring, supervising, evaluating, teaching, coaching, grading, advising, mentoring, or providing benefits to or obtaining benefits from the other individual.

An employee’s failure to promptly self-report a consensual relationship under this section or a consensual relationship under this section that is not remedied through approved alternative arrangements may result in disciplinary action up to and including dismissal.

3.2.2 Documentation of the alternative arrangements is signed by each affected employee and placed in their personnel file. The individual’s immediate supervisor must ensure that the issue is promptly reported in writing to the member chief executive officer. The member retains the right to determine if alternative arrangements are possible and, if so, which arrangements are selected.
